game, with a cold twelve-mile wind work. from the north blowing across the fleid. Several times there were showers, one while Chicago was balling in the fifth inning being so heavy that it was necessary to intercupt plus for interes minutes. Again in the seventh history there was a sharp shower for a few minutes, but it did not last long emough to interrupt the game. The attendance was a disappointment, reaching only 17,306. The raw cold day probably had some affect in holding dawn the allendance, no doubt, together with disastisfaction with the arrangements governing the sale of thickets. The Detroit learn did not show at any time during the alternhous the sings and dash which marked their placing during the American leagues second here.
